

CBI expands its exchange rate and gold database

The Central Bank of Iraq would like to clarify that it worked to expand the database on the publication of exchange rates and gold prices on its website, and this rule includes daily and monthly rates of exchange rate of the Iraqi dinar and other currencies against the US dollar and gold prices.

This bank refers to the possibility of referring to these indicators by all beneficiaries (researchers and scholars as well as governmental institutions and courts), without the need to request through paper correspondence, which helps to reduce the burden of correspondence and increase awareness in the use of data electronically. We confirm that directory of Statistics Research at the Central Bank will answer all exchange rate inquiries.
